MINISTRY OF INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING

NOTICE

New Delhi, the 21st April 1960

G.S.R. 504.—The following draft of an Order which the Central Government proposes to make in exercise of the powers conferred by section 3 of the Newspaper (Price and Page) Act, 1956 (45 of 1956) is hereby published for the information of all associations of publishers and all publishers of daily newspapers likely to be affected thereby, and notice is hereby given that the said draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 20th May 1960.

2. Any objection or suggestion which may be received from any person with respect to the said draft before the date so specified shall be considered by the Central Government.

DRAFT ORDER

1. (1) This Order may be called the Newspaper (Price and Page) Order, 1960.
- (2) It extends to the whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir.
- (3) It shall come into force on.....1960.

2. In this Order, unless the context otherwise requires,—

- (a) "Quarter", in relation to a year, means a period of three months beginning with January, April, July or October;
- (b) "Schedule" means the Schedule appended to this Order;
- (c) "Week" means a period of seven consecutive days beginning with a Monday;
- (d) "Weekly edition", in relation to a daily newspaper, means a special edition thereof issued once every week on a specified day, whether or not such edition appears under the same title as that of the daily newspaper.

3. Where the price charged for a daily newspaper does not exceed twelve naye paise per issue, the number of pages of all the issues of that newspaper published during a week shall not exceed the maximum number of pages assigned to such newspaper in Part I of the Schedule or, as the case may be, Part II thereof.

4. A weekly edition of a daily newspaper may, in addition to its permissible quota under paragraph 3, contain such number of pages, as does not exceed twice the daily average of its permissible quota under the said paragraph during a week:

Provided that in no case, such additional number of pages shall exceed six pages.

5. Notwithstanding anything contained in paragraph 3, a daily newspaper may, on the 26th January and the 15th August every year and once every quarter on any such special occasion as the publisher thereof thinks fit, publish a supplement or special edition of the newspaper containing additional number of pages not exceeding the quota prescribed for its weekly edition under paragraph 4.

6. If the Central Government is of opinion that it may be necessary for daily newspapers to issue supplements or special edition thereof on any special occasion not provided for in paragraph 5, the Central Government may, by general or special order, exempt such supplements, or special editions from the operation of paragraph 3 to such extent as may be specified in the Order.

7. A daily newspaper shall not be deemed to have contravened any of the provisions of paragraph 3 or paragraph 4 unless the number of pages of all the issues of that newspaper published during any period of four consecutive weeks exceeds the quota assigned to such newspaper during that period in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 3, or paragraph 4, as the case may be.

NOTE :—Where the area of the page of a daily newspaper is not covered by any of the three categories specified above, the maximum number of pages which may be assigned to it shall be determined by the Press Registrar, having regard to the total area to which it would have been entitled under Part I or Part II, as the case may be.
